Science-U Residential Camper Code of Conduct 2022

Staying in the Penn State University dorms for summer camps is a privilege. In an effort to ensure the safety and well-being of all campers during their stay at University Park, all residential campers are expected to follow the general guidelines below:

- No alcoholic beverages, tobacco, or illegal substances of any kind are allowed on campus or in campus dorms/facilities at any time.
- No overnight guests are permitted in the dorms.
- In-room visitation is restricted to program participants of the same gender.
- Guests of participants must contact the Science-U Camp Administrators to receive permission before visiting.
- Honor the curfew as determined by your evening mentors and camp administration staff. The dorms lock at 10:00pm.
- Quiet hours run from 11:00 P.M. to 7:00 A.M. Campers must be in their rooms by 11:00 P.M. with no guests. Evening Mentors will check rooms at 11:15 P.M. and will call parents immediately if a camper is missing from his/her room.
- The dorms are conveniently located on campus and are just a short walk from where camp will take place. Evening and Curriculum Mentors will be there to guide you.
- Respectfully interact with all camp and/or Penn State summer staff in the common areas, including dorms, dining commons, pool, and general campus.
- Respect your Science- U Evening Mentor.
- Respect campers from other programs staying in nearby dorm rooms.
- Respect all physical property that does not belong to you, including laboratories, lab supplies, landscaping, dorm facilities (including rooms, study lounges, bathrooms, elevators, and stairwells) and all other adjoining campus spaces.
- Report to camp events on time. You are expected to attend all scheduled camp events. In the case of an emergency you must contact the evening mentors and/or director of the camp.
- Report any concerns to your camp mentor or Science-U Camp Administration Staff.

Conduct Policy
Any camper who disregards the noted expectations stated above will:

1. Be required to call home the night of the incident and explain the situation to parent/guardian.
2. Be asked a series of investigative questions regarding the matter.
3. Be asked to write a letter of apology to evening mentor and camp director.
4. Have the possibility of being dismissed from specific camp activities or the entire camp (i.e. be asked to leave the next day and would have to arrange for transportation).
